App Subscription / Upgrade

Definition

An App Subscription is a paid plan that grants users access to premium features of SIM for a specified duration — monthly or yearly. It controls which features are accessible and operates on a time-based validity model.

The app offers a 1-month free trial. After the trial, a subscription must be purchased to continue using the app.

Subscription Plans

- Monthly Package — Auto-renews every month unless cancelled.
- Annual Package — Auto-renews every year unless cancelled.
- 1-Year Access (No Auto-Renew) — Access for 1 year. Must be manually renewed after expiry. Does not auto-renew.

- Indian users — Razorpay, QR scanner.

Note on pricing: The amount shown on the Google Play Store subscription page may vary by country due to local taxes and currency conversion. The amount shown on direct payment links is fixed globally for all users.

Subscription Lifecycle

1. Trial Activation

- A 1-month free trial begins immediately upon app installation, regardless of whether the app is actively used.
- During the trial, all data is stored locally on the device only. No data is stored on the app servers.
- If the app is uninstalled during the trial, all data is permanently lost and cannot be recovered.

2. Plan Selection

- Select Monthly, Annual, or 1-Year No Auto-Renew.

3. Payment

- Payment is processed via Google Play Store, Razorpay, Stripe, or PayPal.

4. Registration

- Users must register with an email ID and password to activate subscription benefits.
- Registration is not possible without an active subscription.

5. Activation

- Premium features are unlocked instantly after successful purchase and registration.
- Access includes: web/desktop version at www.simpleinvoiceweb.com (<http://www.simpleinvoiceweb.com>), multiple Android devices at no extra cost, sub-user management, online store, and manage images features.
- Other basic features remain the same between trial and paid versions.

6. Renewal / Expiry / Cancellation

- Monthly and Annual plans auto-renew unless cancelled.
- Upon expiry, users cannot create new invoices or access previously created data. Viewing and editing are also restricted.
- To cancel auto-renewal: Google Play Store → Side Menu (profile icon) → Payment & Subscription → Subscription → Cancel.

Flow summary: Install → Trial → Subscribe → Register → Use → Renew / Expire

Key Concepts

- Free Trial — A 1-month complimentary period. Trial starts on app installation, not on first use. Data during trial is stored on device only and is not recoverable if the app is uninstalled.
 - Grace Period — A short period after subscription expiry during which some functionality may still be available.
 - Cloud Account Dependency — Subscriptions are linked to a user's email address. A registered cloud account is required to activate subscription benefits and enable cross-device access.
 - Payment Gateway Integration — Google Play Store or direct payment providers (Razorpay, Stripe, PayPal) handle billing, renewals, and transaction processing.

Interaction with Other Features

- Data Access on Expiry — Users cannot create new invoices or access existing data after subscription expiry. Viewing and editing are also restricted.
 - Backup & Sync — Premium users can take cloud backups (manual or scheduled) and sync across multiple devices or the web version. On expiry, sync may be disabled and existing data access may be restricted.
 - Notifications & Reminders — The app sends renewal reminders and expiry alerts before and after subscription expiry.

Practical Example

1. A user creates 100 invoices during the 1-month free trial.
2. The trial ends. The user can no longer create new invoices.
3. The user purchases a monthly or yearly plan. Full access is restored instantly.
4. After 1 month or 1 year, the subscription expires and invoice creation stops again.
